

WE RATE DOGS Analysis

A Twitter account with a funny and interesting tweets about dogs

I wrangled WeRateDogs Twitter data to create interesting and trustworthy analyses and visualizations.

BY gathering, then assessing and cleaning is required for "Wow!"-worthy analyses and visualizations.

Most Frequent Dog Stage

- There are several dog stage through the tweets (doggo, flooter, pupper, floofer, pupper, puppo)
- The most frequent dog stage is pupper.

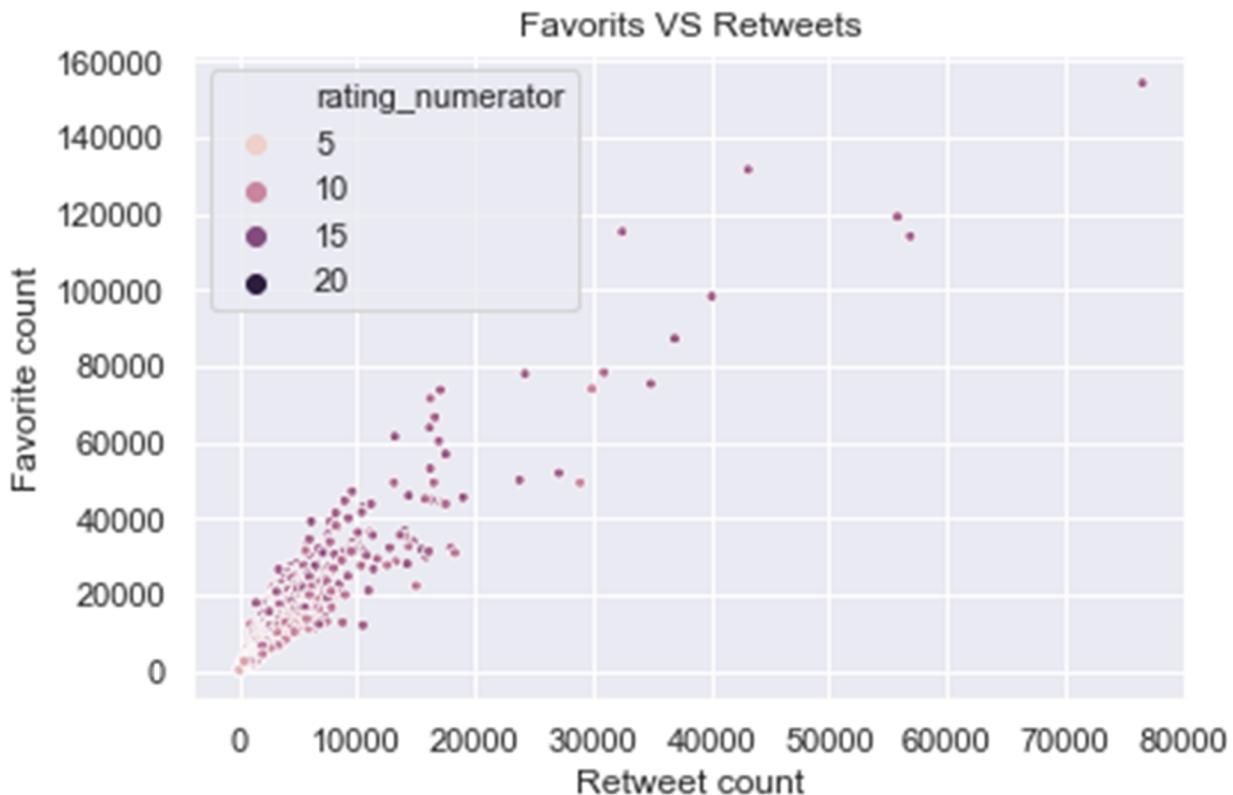

And this is an example for pupper stage,
The term PUPPER is part of a phenomenon called Doggo Lingo (or Dog-Speak). Doggo Lingo is a simple, upbeat, joyful, and friendly way of talking that imitates how a dog might speak
if it was able to.

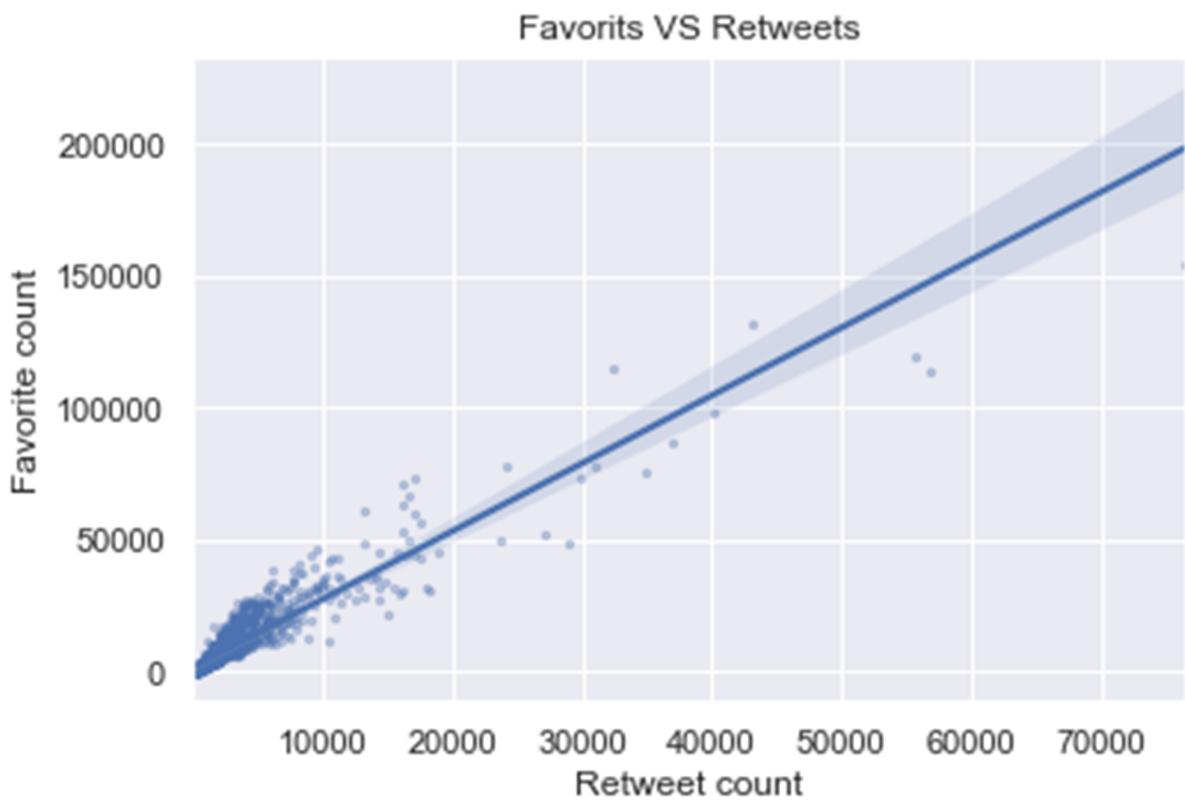

Pupper.

Favorites VS Retweets

As we can see the Favorites and the Retweers are postive correlated so whenever the number of Favorites increased the retweet number increases.
